

Cooperation ASCONSIT and Sopra Steria

Stronger together: ASCONSIT and Sopra Steria launch strategic partnership

by ASCONSIT | Published on 21. August 2025

Today, more than ever, companies across all industries are faced with the challenge of managing digital identities securely, efficiently and in compliance with regulations.

ASCONSIT GmbH and Sopra Steria SE are combining their extensive and long-standing experience in cyber security and identity & access management (IAM) to provide our customers with comprehensive and future-proof support in meeting these challenges. Through this close partnership, we are creating powerful consulting services that combine security, efficiency and compliance.

What sets our partnership apart:

- We create synergies between both companies for maximum customer benefit.
- We combine in-depth technical know-how with extensive expertise from IAM projects of varying complexity and across different industries.
- We implement holistic IAM strategies, from kick-off workshops to design and implementation to operation and associated support.
- We focus our work in projects on security, efficiency and compliance with regulatory requirements.

Our common goal: greater customer success through combined expertise and tailor-made solutions.

Let us work together to master your IAM challenges.

Arndt Spitzer, CEO of ASCONSIT, reflects on the desired partnership as follows:

"From the outset, communication with Sopra Steria has been on an equal footing. It quickly became clear that customer satisfaction, quality and a necessary pragmatism were the top priorities. Joint ideas can be developed and implemented in a very short time. We are very much looking forward to the next successful joint projects and will inspire customers with our synergies."

Daniel Meißner, Manager at Sopra Steria NEXT, assesses the partnership as follows:

"A genuine partnership between equals unfolds its strength when different skills and experiences not only coexist, but are consciously linked together. By specifically combining the diverse expertise of ASCONSIT GmbH and Sopra Steria SE – in technical, methodological and cultural terms – we create real added value for our customers in our joint future projects."

