

We have expanded

More space for our customers and employees

The new company head offices.

As of now ASCONSIT is ready to serve customers and staff from new premises. At our new offices we have more room to develop our operational activities and to implement more customer projects.

The premises provide even more space for expanding team capacities in the area of support, development and consulting. Which means we are carrying on the tradition of operating and expanding our German-engineered qualitative and innovative services from Lüneburg.

The way is clear for our roadmap to new cloud technologies, general cyber security and integration of new product manufacturers. We are ready to offer our clients the best possible assistance with those issues in future. If you are interested or have any questions, we will be pleased to hear from you at any time.

We offer our staff generously spacious areas for their individual work and communal spaces for intercommunication and break times. Apply to us now and you could be part of the ASCONSIT team sooner than you imagine.
